solemnization of said Marriage.

OUR HEAVENLY FATHER hath instituted MARRIAGE for the comfort and happiness of mankind; and to this end, he hath appointed duties which are incumbent upon those who enter into this relation; such as a high esteem and mutual love for one another; bearing each other's infirmities and weaknesses, to which human nature is subject; to encourage each other under the various ills of life; to comfort one another in sickness; in honesty and industry to provide for each other's temporal support; to pray for and encourage one another in the things of salvation; and to live together as heirs of the grace of life. Let these duties, my dear friends, be faithfully performed, and your solemn MARRIAGE COV-ENANT sacredly maintained; "And besides this," &c.—2 Pet. 1: 5—11.
