Description: Unknown—local newspapers are our only source of information about this "blacksmith shop" later used as "J W Myers Marble Shop". It is referred to both as cobblestone and as stone. Sodus village, however, had 3 cobblestone buildings within a block of this one, thus giving some credence to the claim that it may have been of cobblestone.

Stone or Cobblestone?

1904 Sodus Village atlas color-codes J.W.Myers Marble Works building (#33 Mill) in light pink (as is the nearby Edgar Kelly cobblestone store on the corner of Main and Mill Sts). The legend on Sodus maps denotes light pink as "stone" (there is no code for "cobblestone"). Five confirmed cobblestone buildings were constructed in Sodus Village and similarly color-coded. The town correspondent in 1919 referred to this as a cobblestone building. There are no photographs. There are no newspaper records corroborating this as a cobblestone, or even a stone building. Likewise, nothing has been found on Jim Stuver (or variations on the name).

We don't know the answer to this question.

His son, John F Myers, managed the John W Myers estate after the latter's passing. There were several properties. Newspaper accounts were not specific about property transfers beyond "Sodus property". It appears that the elder Myers' home was on Mill St, perhaps behind the marble works shop. The Myers' home was subsequently rented out.
