Vol. X 8-12-88 No. 31 County Square Personnel 30 Years Ago

The photograph shown here was taken on July 3, 1958 of all the employees and elected officials who worked on the County Square at that time. To say "there have been some changes" is an understatement. Due to demands on local government for services, there are over twice as many employees on the County Square today as there were 30 years ago. We have also gone from a Board of Supervisors to a County Legislature. Twenty people included in the picture are now deceased and all the officials have changed, although Michael Paduchak is still the supervisor in the Town of Kendall.

First row standing: Manley Whipple, Supervisor of Carlton; William Knights Jr., Supervisor of Ridgeway; Thomas DiPalma, Supervisor of Murray; Neal Wilson, Supervisor of Albion; Doris Craddock, Clerk of Board of Supervisors; Harold Hill, Chairman and Supervisor of Barre; Mark Heath, County Attorney; Manley Morrison, Supervisor of Yates; Milton Bowen, Supervisor of Clarendon; Justin Roberts, Supervisor of Shelby; Michael Paduchak, Supervisor of Kendall; and Lester Canham, Supervisor of Gates.

3rd row: Joyce Gaylord, Norma Williams, Mae Carey, Susan Sharping, Betty Dyball, Arlene Allen, Denton Clark and Cary H. Lattin.

4th row: Joan Robinson, Helen VanStone, Veronica Mahaney, Arlene Briggs.

Back: Clarence Vail, Glen Neal, Herbert Holt, Melvin Foss, Chester Wahl, Wallace Forder, Kathleen Clark and Howard Squire.
